TALKING ON THE AIR

RECORD FOR LONG DISTANCE CON-VERSATION WITHOUT A WIRE.

How Cariotta Got an Amateur Malle Out of a Fix a Mile Up In the Air-Her Voice Reached Over Four Miles -Gasbags Acted as Receivers.

Tales are plenty of long distances over which men's voices have been conveyed by the medium of placed water. An Adirondack guide tells of having talked in ordinary tones, on a very still day, with a companion 1 1/4 miles distant at the other end of a lake, and another guide caps this story with one of yells which were heard and returned near a water extent of three miles. These tales are quite outdone by a well enthenticated story told by Carlotta, once the most famous woman balleonist in the world. In her story air, instead of wa-

" 'Hello, hello, hello!' "Then I turned my glass on the other balloon again. Up where the air is so clear as it is a mile above the earth one can see at great distances with wonderful distinctness. Through my glass I could see Mr. White start and look all touch, smell and hearing.—New York G. S. YOUNG, HARVEY JARRETT, around him. That was quite awhile after I had shouted. He didn't seem to nuderstand where the voice came from, but finally I saw him put his hands to seemed made up of a million other tones:

"Forty seconds later my balloon began to vibrate again, finally forming the words:

"'All right. In trouble!" "There was method in my telling him to throw out the sandbag, as it was afterward of use. I threw out a number myself, for I reckoned that a little above me I would find a current to carry me toward Mr. White. This I did and was soon within a short distance of him, aerially considered. " 'Well,' said he, 'you got me out of a very bad scrape, but I never was so scared in my life as when that voice surrounded me. I thought the balloon was talking, and that I had gone crazy. "'It was a pretty long talk,' said I, for, allowing the voice to travel five seconds to a mile by my timing, we must have been close to four miles apart.'

"That's simply impossible, 'said he. " 'Very well,' I said. 'That's why I told you to drop that sandbag. I threw some out, too, and we can fied out how far they landed apart. "It wasn't much trouble to find people who had found the bags and knew just where they were. Fortunately they had landed near a railroad track, so the distance estimating was made easy for us. It was 41/4 miles. I guess that is the record up to date for long distance talking without a wire."

A pair of twins was born in the Back Bay district. A bright boy set about to try to name them. He said, "Will they 104 TIMES A YEAR, be called Peter and Repeater? But no. His mother would not listen to the name Peter. Then he said, "Let them, be called Max and Climax."

"No," she said. "They are both little. girls, so we cannot name one of them,

Then, he said after much thought, Let them be called Kate and Duplisate." After that his head was bandaged, and he was sent out to play.-

Penaltics For Careloss Coacha When an omnibus or a cab driver runs over a foot passenger in London streets the possible loss of a license exercises a wholesome restraint. The private coachman and the driver of the tradesman's cart have far less compunction in teaching an old gentleman to get out of their way by running him down. At the worst, they are fined. Not infrequently their fines are paid by a sympathizing employer. But no one pays a poor calman's fines, and the loss of a license in addition means the less of his means of a livelihood.

In Paris, we believe, the driver of a flacre is generally allowed by the law to run over one bourgeois in the course of a year. In London magistrates are tem lenient. Moreover, the law makes ar unfair and arbitrary distinction between the cabman's case and that of the unlicensed driver. The former is liable to be removed from the box for good and all. The driver of the cart may continue to urge on his wild career, though he destroys several citizens in the course of the year.-London Spectator.
